COLLECTION 2026-27

HANDCRAFTED IN BAGRU & JAIPUR, RAJASTHAN · INDIA

Made in Rajasthan

PATYO is the design brand of Earthen Exports — over 50 years of crafting natural-fibre home goods from Jaipur, now paired with a furniture workshop in Bagru. Furniture, rugs, baskets, lighting and wall decor, woven from jute, hemp, seagrass, water hyacinth, banana fibre and upcycled yarns on powder-coated iron and solid wood.

Every piece is made to order and entirely by hand — 10 to 12 hours of skilled handwork go into a single chair. Slight variation in the weave is the mark of its making, not a flaw.

Knockdown construction and flat-packing keep shipping volumes low; UV- and water-resistant weaves keep pieces outdoors where they belong. Earthen Exports serves wholesale and project clients worldwide.

FR-5013

The Chakra Chair

A single continuous hoop of powder-coated cold-rolled steel, hand-strung by artisans in Bagru with recycled packaging yarn — each strand placed by hand, rim to base. It holds its own as sculpture as much as seating.

The Bagru Fold

From the craft workshops of Bagru, Rajasthan — a foldable chair built on a wrought iron frame and woven entirely by hand. Texturised PP yarn, recovered from bedding industry waste, is worked into a herringbone across the seat and back. It folds flat, ships compact, and carries the mark of the hands that made it.

The Bagru Recline

Each rope in this lounge chair was once discarded packaging — gathered, cleaned and hand-twisted by artisans in Bagru, then woven directly onto a powder-coated iron frame. The weave turns the overlooked into something enduring and built for the open air.

The Re-thread Chair

Calendering waste from the chips packaging industry — the same plastic that ends up in landfills — is collected, sorted and hand-spun into yarn in Bagru. That yarn is then woven by hand across a powder-coated wrought iron cross-base frame into a clean geometric pattern. It arrives flat-packed and assembles in minutes.

The Sutli Chair

In the workshops of Bagru, a single rope of hand-twisted jute runs through this chair's wrought iron frame — becoming the armrest, the backrest, and the quiet detail that holds the whole piece together. It arrives flat-packed with screws and an allen key, and hangs neatly from the wall when the room needs its space back.

FR-5005

The Jalkumbhi Sofa

Jalkumbhi — water hyacinth — is one of the world's most invasive aquatic weeds, spreading across Indian lakes and rivers and choking the ecosystem beneath. We pull it from the water, hand-twist it into yarn, and weave it by hand onto solid Acacia and Mango wood. Every braid along the base is that act of removal, made permanent.
